

Students make an impact at museum

ARUNDEL Museum's Norfolk Gallery is currently showing its first exhibition of 2006.

Perspectives, a collection of works by Northbrook College's faculty of art, runs until May 25.

The exhibition was opened by Arundel mayor Joe Hayes on Friday and features sculptures by Paul Cox and Paul Chapman, ceramics by Eileen Brown, jewellery by Lorraine Gibby and paintings by Carl Woodward.

Visitors will be able to purchase the pieces on show directly from the exhibition and even commission works from the artists.

The exhibition will be open from Monday to Friday, 10.30 a.m. - 4 p.m., Saturday, 10am-4pm, and Sunday, 10am-2pm.

Entry to the museum is £2 for adults, £1 concessions. Accompanied children go free.